5. Urges Governments, as may be willing, organizations of the United Nations system and other aid partners of the African countries to make better use of the co-ordination and facilitating functions of the resident co-ordinator and of the capacity of the United Nations Development Programme to make co-ordinated and effective linkages of technical co-operation programmes;

6. Requests the Administrator to ensure that all the parts of the United Nations Development Programme under his responsibility continue to play an integrated, strong and supportive role vis-à-vis the Office for Emergency Operations in Africa and, with regard to both short-term and long-term co-operation, welcomes the fullest use by that Office of the capacity and central role of the resident co-ordinator and the United Nations Development Programme field network in all countries in sub-Saharan Africa affected by the emergency situation;

7. Supports the Administrator's proposals for strengthening the capacity of field offices in sub-Saharan Africa in accordance with the United Nations Development Programme budget for 1986;

8. Invites the Economic and Social Council, at its second regular session of 1985, to endorse the action set out in the present decision and to request the Secretary-General, in consultation with the Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme and other executive heads, to take the necessary measures, in accordance with General Assembly resolution 32/197, of 20 December 1977, to enable the resident co-ordinator, who is normally the resident representative of the United Nations Development Programme, to carry out the responsibilities envisaged in the present decision as effectively as possible.

85/13. Focal point for short-term advisory services

The Governing Council,

Mindful of the shortages of skills that exist in most developing countries and the need for assistance from all appropriate sources to support national efforts at overcoming such shortages,

Taking note of the existence of sources of human skills that have been relatively untapped by multilateral technical co-operation and the support that may be available from such sources, including those from developing countries,

Having considered the note of the Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme on the original proposal to establish a human resources facility (DP/1985/14), prepared in accordance with paragraph 18 of Council decision 84/4 of 29 June 1984, and the exchange of views in the Council thereon,

Recognizing that the services to be provided by the focal point should be appropriately related to the needs of the recipient developing countries,

1. Takes note of the interest shown for the concept of a human resources facility;

2. Decides that:

(a) The Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme, taking fully into account the debate on that subject, be authorized to confer on a focal point, for a trial period of twenty-four months, commencing on 1 July 1985, within the headquarters of the United Nations Development Programme, the task of utilizing the expertise and skills to be made available at the request of developing countries at highly concessional rates or at no cost from sources not normally tapped by multilateral programmes of technical co-operation;

(b) The purpose of the focal point shall be to enhance the flow of skills to the enterprises and institutions of developing countries, as requested by them through their Governments, through short-term missions of highly qualified advisers drawn from the above-mentioned sources in developed and developing countries, to perform precisely defined tasks, which may include training;

(c) The function of the focal point, which shall be envisaged as a means of technical co-operation additional to mechanisms that already exist in the field, shall be to act as a clearing-house matching requests for specialized skills with the sources of supply mentioned above;

(d) Requests for assistance made to the focal point from Governments or national focal points specifically established for that purpose by the Government should be channelled through the field office of the United Nations Development Programme;

(e) The focal point should collaborate closely with existing mechanisms making available expertise to developing countries, including the United Nations development system, non-governmental organizations and other interested organizations and associations; and it should, in so doing, co-operate fully with the facilities established to promote technical co-operation among developing countries;

(f) The focal point, to the extent possible, should aim at developing links between sources of expertise and beneficiaries in developing countries and their respective Governments;

(g) Funding for mission costs will generally be shared by donor and recipient institutions on the basis reflected in paragraph 38 (a) of DP/1985/14. Multilateral and bilateral development institutions, Governments and other sources such as foundations, enterprises and similar entities, could contribute to the financing of such missions on a case-by-case basis;

(h) The financing of the administrative costs of the focal point for the trial period shall be made available, during the period 1 July 1985 through 31 December 1986, from the Special Programme Resources at an annual cost of $125,000 for salaries and an amount not to exceed $100,000 for other expenses;

(i) The trial period of two years shall come to an end on 30 June 1987, unless decided otherwise by the Council;

3. Invites all Governments to support the operations of the focal point;

4. Requests all interested organizations, similarly, to support the operations of the focal point and, as required, to consider financial contributions to meet special operational costs of the focal point;

5. Requests the Administrator to provide a progress report to the Council at its thirty-third session (1986) and to provide a report to the Council at its thirty-fourth session (1987), based on a full evaluation of the activities of the focal point, which should contain a clear recommendation on whether to continue the focal point after the experimental period.

The Governing Council,

Recalling its decisions 79/18 of 26 June 1979, 81/13 of 23 June 1981, 82/13 of 18 June 1982, 83/11 of 24 June 1983 and 84/13 of 29 June 1984 and the relevant provisions of General Assembly resolutions,

Recognizing that the economic and social situation of the Palestinian people continues to require the special and urgent attention of the international community,

Reaffirming the commitment of the United Nations Development Programme to assist the Palestinian people in advancing their economic and social development,

Noting the difficulties encountered in efforts by the international community to bring meaningful and comprehensive development assistance to the Palestinian people in the occupied territories,

Taking note of the report of the Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme concerning the programme of assistance to the Palestinian people (DP/1985/18),

1. Expresses its appreciation to the Administrator of the United Nations Development Program for his continuous efforts in the implementation of the programme of assistance to the Palestinian people;

2. Recommends that further and vigorous efforts be made urgently in collaboration and direct consultation with all parties concerned, as requested in various relevant resolutions of the General Assembly, to achieve the goals regarding meeting the economic and social needs of the Palestinian people;

3. Expresses its gratitude to those Governments and funds which have responded generously to appeals by the Governing Council and the General Assembly for additional special contributions to the third programming cycle;

4. Reconfirms the need for additional special contributions, now made even more urgent by the full commitment of all funds made available from Special Programme Resources, and other sources;

5. Notes that, unless additional contributions are received, it will not be possible to undertake in a timely and fully effective fashion the ready pipeline of basic development projects in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip;

6. Authorizes the allocation of an additional $2 million from the third cycle Special Programme Resources in order to maintain the Programme's momentum and ensure a smooth transition into the fourth cycle;

7. Requests the Administrator to report to the Governing Council at its thirty-third session (1986) on the concrete measures taken for the full implementation of the present decision and the result achieved in that respect.

38th meeting
29 June 1985

85/16. Fourth programming cycle

The Governing Council

1. Decides to maintain for the fourth programming cycle a five-year planning period to cover the years 1987-1991, inclusive;

2. Also decides that the World Bank data on population and per capita gross national product for 1983 shall be used in the calculations in all cases where they are available; in all other instances where reference is made in the present decision to those criteria, the Administrator shall determine and use the best estimates available, taking into account estimates provided to the Statistical Office of the United Nations Secretariat and from other reliable sources, including estimates given by Governments of recipient countries concerned;

3. Decides further that for the purposes of forward planning an assumed average annual growth of total voluntary contributions of at least 8 per cent on a basis of the target of $700 million anticipated for 1986, shall apply;

4. Further decides that, in June 1989, the Governing Council shall review the resources available to date, the plans and any further indications by contributors to the Programme regarding the remaining years of the cycle, taking into account the perceived needs of the recipient countries, and make a determination as to whether higher indicative planning figures (IPFs) shall be established for the remaining years of the cycle; such higher IPFs shall be calculated on the basis of the criteria set out below;

5. Approves the following guidelines and criteria for the allocation of financial resources to the various programmes:

(a) Of the total resources allocated for IPFs, 19 per cent shall be allocated for intercountry IPFs and 81 per cent for country IPFs;

(b) Within the total amount of IPF resources allocated to intercountry programmes, 79.5 per cent will be allocated to the regional programmes, 8 per cent to the interregional programme and 12.5 per cent to the global programme;

(c) In addition to the above-mentioned resources for the intercountry programme, an amount of $20 million will be allocated to the global programme from the resources set aside for increase in the Operational Reserve;

(d) For the calculation of individual country IPFs, the methodology and criteria should take into account the following:

- (i) Eighty per cent of the total amount available for country IPFs shall be allocated to countries with 1983 per capita GNP of up to $750; the calculation to be made in such a way that the weighting is more advantageous to low-income countries with 1983 per capita GNP of $375 and below;
 - (ii) The remaining 20 per cent of total country IPFs shall be allocated to countries with 1983 per capita GNP of above $750, the calculation to be made in such a way that the weighting is more advantageous to countries with 1983 per capita GNP between $751 and $1,500;
 - (iii) Countries with a 1983 per capita GNP of below $3,000 and small island countries with a population of 1 million or less and with a 1983 per capita GNP between $3,000 and $4,200 shall have a supplement, if necessary, to their IPFs for the fourth cycle so that they receive no less than 100 per cent of their country IPFs for the third cycle, as established on the basis of paragraph 10 of decision 84/16 of 29 June 1984;
 - (iv) Countries other than those referred to in paragraph (d) (iii) above shall have, if necessary, a supplement to their IPFs for the fourth cycle so that they receive no less than 80 per cent of their country IPFs for the third cycle, as established on the basis of paragraph 10 of decision 84/16;
 - (v) Each country with a 1983 per capita GNP of above $1,500 shall receive a country IPF for the fourth cycle of an amount which may not be in excess of its IPF for the third cycle, as established on the basis of paragraph 10 of decision 84/16;
 - (vi) The weight ratio between the basic criteria and supplementary criteria used in computing illustrative country IPFs will be 75 to 25. In addition, the amount allocated for each supplementary point given will comprise a fixed part per supplementary point (25 per cent) and a variable part (75 per cent), the latter directly correlated to the amount of the IPF calculated on the basis of basic criteria, and there will be a cap to limit the amount given for supplementary criteria to a maximum of 50 per cent of the amount given for basic criteria;
- (e) For the fourth cycle, the following supplementary criteria will be applied for any given country:
- (i) Inclusion in the list of countries designated as least developed among developing countries or, by decision of the Governing Council, designated to be treated as if it had been included in that list;
 - (ii) It is a land-locked developing country;
 - (iii) It is an island developing country;
 - (iv) It has acceded to independence during the second programming cycle or thereafter;
 - (v) It is a front-line State;

- (vi) It suffers from acute ecological or geographical disabilities;
 - (vii) The magnitude of its development effort, the extent to which the Government is making structural changes to promote the development process and the distribution of income and other elements of social justice;
 - (viii) Its total annual debt service payments exceeds 20 per cent of total export earnings on goods and services, in 1983;
 - (ix) Its current account deficit exceeds 10 per cent of its gross domestic product or national income for at least two years out of the three-year period 1981-1983;
 - (x) Its continued deterioration in terms of trade, measured as a decline by more than 15 per cent in at least two years out of the three-year period 1981-1983;
6. Decides that for regional IPFs the supplementary criteria enumerated in paragraph 10 of decision 80/30, shall apply;
7. Strongly urges all countries, especially those who have hitherto made only relatively modest contributions, to increase their voluntary contributions at a level necessary to maintain the momentum of the Programme in accordance with paragraph 6 of decision 80/30 and further urges those countries whose contribution to the Programme, expressed as a percentage of their official development assistance is low compared to the average of the contributions of such countries, to use every effort to increase their contributions;
8. Urges that countries with per capita GNP of between $1,500 and $2,000 to exert their best efforts to increase gradually their annual regular contributions so as to reimburse partially on a voluntary basis as great a proportion as possible of the Programme-financed programme, using the annualized IPF as a reference;
9. Decides that, taking into account the contributions to field office costs, in accordance with the Standard Basic Agreement or similar agreements, countries with a 1983 per capita GNP of between $2,000 and $3,000 and island developing countries referred to in paragraph 5 (d) (iii), above, would gradually increase their annual regular contributions on a voluntary basis, so as to reimburse partially the Programme-financed programme in order to reach from the year 1987 onwards, on an annual basis, a ratio of contributions of at least 75 per cent of the IPF expenditure in each year, in addition to the cost of the Programme field office, as determined in consultation with host Governments, and as incurred in each year, excluding the cost of the resident representative and the deputy; in determining such local costs there shall be deducted costs which are not related to the delivery of the IPF programme;
10. Recognizes with appreciation that certain recipient developing countries with a per capita GNP above $3,000 have achieved or expect to achieve voluntary net contributor status during the third cycle, and calls upon them to continue to do so in the fourth cycle;
11. Notes that certain recipient countries with 1983 per capita GNP above $3,000, excluding island developing countries with a population in 1983 of less than 1 million and with 1983 per capita GNP between $3,000 and $4,200, have not yet achieved net contributor status, and in order for them to do so calls upon the Administrator to negotiate with Governments, as defined below, an amendment to the Standard Basic Agreement or similar agreements incorporating measures to ensure contributions equivalent to the IPF expenditure in each year, together with the cost of the United Nations Development Programme field office, as determined in consultation with host Governments and as incurred in each year, excluding the cost of the resident representative and the deputy; in determining such local cost there shall be deducted costs which are not related to the delivery of the IPF programme;

12. Requests the Administrator to report to the Council at its thirty-third session on the results of the negotiations referred to in paragraph 11 above;

13. Decides also that,

(a) Beginning with the year 1987, the Administrator shall determine the difference in each year between the contributions made by the Government both to the Programme and to the cost of the local office, on the one hand, and, on the other, the IPF delivered together with the cost of the United Nations Development Programme field office, as defined in paragraph 11 above; the deficiency, if any, in each year shall be deducted from the IPF available for the rest of the cycle, beginning with the year 1989;

(b) The Administrator shall in each year monitor the position so as to ensure that the deficiency of an individual country at no time exceeds its IPF remaining unspent;

(c) Pending final resolution of financial regulations dealing with currency of contribution, contributions above expenditures paid by the United Nations Development Program in local currency shall be paid as much as possible in convertible currencies;

(d) The Administrator shall report at the midterm on the extent to which the arrangements in paragraphs 8-13 above have been fulfilled;

14. Decides further that the IPF for national liberation movements shall be increased in the same proportion as the total increase of IPFs for countries with a per capita GNP below $750;

15. Decides, taking into account the special circumstances relating to the situation of Namibia, to increase, on an exceptional basis, the fourth cycle IPF for Namibia, as determined by the criteria for calculating country IPFs above, by 50 per cent; an additional amount of up to $3 million shall be provided for Namibia following submission of a report by the Administrator to the Governing Council at its thirty-third session (1986) to justify that amount;

16. Decides also to maintain, wherever possible, ongoing subregional projects aimed at enhancing multi-island co-operation and therefore, without prejudice to the allocation of regional IPFs, to allocate an amount of $2.5 million for a separate IPF for that purpose for the fourth programming cycle;

17. Reconfirms that 1.24 per cent of total resources during the fourth cycle will be allocated to specific activities to be financed under the Special Programme Resources. In addition to those resources, an amount of $20 million will be allocated to the Special Programme Resources from the resources set aside for increase in the Operational Reserve;

18. Requests the Administrator, in administering the Programme, in all circumstances, to keep programme commitments within foreseen available resources and if mobilization of resources fall short of the target set in paragraph 3 above, to make a flat across-the-board percentage reduction in all IPFs in supercession of any criteria that may interfere with the share of the respective countries; the same principle shall apply to other Programme elements, subject to the Governing Council's decision on the biennial administrative budget of the United Nations Development Programme.

85/23. International Day for Volunteers for Economic and Social Development

The Governing Council,

Taking note of the annual report of the Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme on the United Nations Volunteers programme (DP/1985/44),

Considering that volunteer service as exemplified not only by the United Nations Volunteers programme but also by thousands of volunteers of all nationalities, belonging to many organizations throughout the world, is making a most noteworthy contribution to programmes for socio-economic development,

Recognizing that the observance of an appropriate day would serve to create greater world-wide awareness of the nature of that contribution and thereby stimulate more people to offer their services as volunteers, both at home and abroad,

Cognizant also of the fact that such an observance would stimulate the work of all volunteer organizations and constitute a source of encouragement for those volunteers, many of whom engage in volunteer service at considerable personal sacrifice,

Noting the assurance of the Administrator that the observance would involve no further financial implications for the United Nations Development Programme,

Recommends that the General Assembly consider the question of designating an International Day for Volunteers for Economic and Social Development.

85/36. 1986 budget

The Governing Council,

Having considered the 1986-1987 biennial budget estimates of the United Nations Development Programme and the funds administered by the United Nations Development Programme (DP/1985/57),

1. Takes note with appreciation of the related report of the Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Questions (DP/1985/56); used to offset the gross appropriations, resulting in net appropriations of $145,373,100, as indicated in the annex below;

3. Decides that of the appropriation for Programme resources approved in paragraph 2 above, $3.0 million shall be reflected as a separate appropriation line within the 1986 budget, entitled "Africa strengthening" and that those resources shall take the form of a subvention to the extrabudgetary account for "Strengthening field offices in Africa" and shall be reimbursed to the extent that contributions are made by donors for that purpose;

5. Strongly urges those organizations of the United Nations system which either benefit from the services being provided by the field offices of the United Nations Development Programme in Africa or whose mandates and substantive involvement render them most suitable for providing assistance to Africa (for example, within the United Nations, the Department of Technical Co-operation for Development, the Department of International Economic and Social Affairs and the Economic Commission for Africa), to make available to the United Nations Development Programme suitable resources in cash or in kind through redeployment from within their own provisions for the purpose of strengthening co-ordination and emergency functions in Africa by the United Nations system, and in particular the United Nations Development Programme; and decides that such contributions shall be treated as a credit to the extrabudgetary account for strengthening field offices in Africa referred to in paragraph 3 above, and would be an appropriate reflection of the principle that all agencies of the United Nations system should share in the response to Africa;

6. Requests the Administrator to continue his efforts in that regard with the Secretary-General of the United Nations, and with the heads of the specialized agencies of the United Nations system, with a view to securing the co-operation outlined in the preceding paragraph;

9. Notes that no decision was taken at the current session concerning the closure of the field office at Belgrade, and that the issue is to be reconsidered at the thirty-third session;
