Corrigendum

Page 7 and 8, paragraph 24 should read:

24. Typically, a periodic country programme review report would include the following:

- (a) Cover page;
- (b) Introduction, including brief summary of the process followed for the continuous and periodic review of the country programme;
- (c) Performance, a brief but penetrating analysis of achievements in relation to planned (project) objectives;
- (d) New developments since approval of the country programme document, in:
 - (i) Development objectives and programmes supported by UNDP (changes in priorities);
 - (ii) Projects identified in the country programme document: assistance completed or terminated; unforeseen extensions of planned assistance, subsequent phases; significant changes in design or content;
 - (iii) New projects identified (and being implemented) within "earmarkings" for selected activities or programmes;
 - (iv) New projects identified outside such "earmarkings"; and
 - (v) Changes in "earmarkings"; and
- (e) Annex: Updated financial summary.
